OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON D C Oct 2 1866

The correspondent of the New York Herald has been asserting for a fortnight that the President was getting sick of his policy,' and was about ready to assent to the Constitutional amendment adopted by Congress last spring But he (the aforesaid correspondent) turns square round and now asserts that the President will in his message to Congress propose something different as a final compromise between the North and the South Congress and the President We all know what that is—it is the old plan he proposed to Senator Dixon last winter—to base representation directly upon voters It had its origin twenty years ago with Senator Schenck of Ohio now one of the ablest of the Radical members of the House The President ... upon this plan last winter as a sort of offset to the Congressional plan, but he would not for one moment consent that it should be made a condition of admission Nor will he now. He means to save himself in this way He will persistently urge the South to agree to some plan which shall dispose of the difficult question of representation He will tell his rebellious friends that they need not agree to this as a condition of admission but will ask them to look at their chance of regaining representation unless they do something to satisfy the Northern sense of justice

I think the President is already looking to some new plan (like the one I have mentioned) to take the place of his famous "policy " Of course long before you receive this letter you will have heard from our elections a week hence, and probably also from those which occur in November I take it for granted that the 40th Congress will contain a clear majority over Southern ers and Copperheads in favor of the Congressional policy of reconstruction If I am mistaken in this I am, of course, mistaken in everything At the present moment it is said that the President and Mr Seward have hopes of carrying a majority of the Congressional districts, but I will not believe they are so stupid.

The Soldiers Convention at Pittsburg has proved a wonderful success Its effect upon the Union soldiers in all parts of the country is great Nine-tenths of the soldiers are with Congress—just about one tenth is with "my policy." This about the proportion out of Kentucky In that State I suppose a majority of the Union soldiers go with the President, but then a clear majority of the voters in that State are either rebels or rebel sympathizers Gen Butler found himself quite popular in the Soldiers' Convention—in fact it was difficult to find anybody or anything too radical The soldiers who fought the war, mean to get something in return for their military successes

Henry Ward Beecher keeps very quiet in reference to political matters and means to do so till the elections are over He is exceedingly unpopular with the American people—that is the better class of the American people One cannot help feeling sorry for the man, for when he wrote his letter he possibly had no idea of the storm it would create. He forgot that the people are greatly excited with the question of reconstruction and will not put up with a blunder on the part of one of their favorites as easily as they might have done last winter

It is rumored that after the elections Mr Beecher will deliver a lecture or preach a sermon, in which he will go over the whole ground and explain himself He insists (privately) that he had no thought of saying a word to defeat any of the Republican candidates, yet it is hard to believe him for he told the Cleveland Convention Committee in so many words that they ought to settle this reconstruction question by their votes Now that he comes to look the matter squarely in the face, Mr Beecher cannot agree that he meant to counsel the soldiers to vote against the Republican candidates and for the Copperheads Yet the Republican candidates are all radical, or so Johnsonized as to be worse than Copperheads I wonder how Mr Beecher himself will vote!

Wendell Phillips declines to run for Congress in one of the Boston districts I think his decision is a very nice one and especially because his sphere (to me ... cant word) is that of an agitator, and he would be entirely out of place in Congress A Boston paper has some choice ideas on the subject. It says:

"Mr Phillips refuses to accept the Workingmen s nomination for Congress, in the Third Massachusetts District Had he accepted it, the Republicans would have been compelled to nominate him, or have submitted to defeat As the candidate of men of liberal views generally, Mr Phillips would have been elected and by a majority that would have startled those narrow minded, timid creatures who think that no public man of pronounced character and great talents can be popular The notion that Mr Phillips' nomination would have endangered the Republican cause in the 3d district is without foundation, and is entertained only by persons who are not aware that a change has come over the public sentiment, a change highly favorable to the elevation of all our legislative bodies, by rendering it the reverse of difficult to elect the best men to the best places in those bodies That none but blockheads can be elected to office is a doctrine very consoling and comforting to blockheads and no wonder they do their utmost to "keep it before the people " who will never be well served till they have showed they have no faith in it "

This is all very well Phillips is not too smart —too great—for Congress, but his life has been devoted to out door agitation and he is a power in the land He is a great denunciator, and put him into Congress and he would break down— he could'nt call names there. Gerrit Smith went to Congress and made a failure. He was quite popular with the slaveholders for a time, but he had to stop calling them robbers,' as he had been accustomed to before the people It wouldn't do to invite a man to dinner and between the courses to pronounce him to be " a thief!" Yet these men who liked Smith so well were (in a certain sense) thieves and robbers Gerrit Smith was sick of his Congressional life, for it harrassed him too much

Some newspaper that I have recently been reading says that Mr Seward has added ten years to his looks by his recent trip This is an exaggeration, but it is a fact that he looks like a very old man He is but 66 years old but looks nearly 80 The terrible experience of a year ago last spring made an old man of him, and it is not strange that it did His broken jaw and almost severed neck were enough to kill any man

The newspapers inform us to-day that Mr Corbett has been elected U S Senator to succeed Mr Nesmith and the New York Tribune says he is a radical republican,' We have been sadly in the dark here for weeks respecting the course of political events in Oregon for although you are in daily receipt of columns of news from the East we get just nothing at all from Oregon The brief dispatches respecting the contest in the Legislature over the Senatorship, only muddled matters, and who it were the politics of ex Governor Gibbs we could not ascertain He was put down as ' conservative ' in the despatches I write this to show you how much befogged the people this side of the Rocky mountains are in reference to the condition of political affairs in Oregon We get fresh and full despatches from California but nothing to speak of from Oregon I suppose the associated press is to blame—they probably are not willing to pay for anything The President is making removals from office just now with great rapidity He is so pressed by delegations and office seekers in person that ten hours are frequently given over to them In fact this is the most important business he has to attend to—that of kicking out Republicans and putting Copperheads in their places He seems to delight in it for it satisfies his ugly passions It is idle for him to make any sane man believe that he is prompted by love of country in making these removals He is not But he satisfies his anger and ... in the foul work This is plain told, but it is the truth

That Stevens has been making a rough speech on the President at Lancaster likening the Presidential trip to a circus show with two great clowns—Johnson and Seward—as performers One can forgive Stevens for some bitterness for has not the President talked of hanging him? The speech reads coarsely but it took amazingly with that great out of door crowd of plain farmers and mechanics

ONCE A WEEK

What the President wants is popular support says the Cincinnati Times The support he is getting in the late elections is such as the pall-bearers give to a corpse.—Portland News

National Affairs.

The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican, which has favored the President s views of reconstruction, writing from that city September 29th, thus remarks upon the general situation

The country seems to be settling down upon the constitutional amendment as the proper plan of reconstruction I notice that the New York Evening Post contains a very strong argument (addressed to the people of the Southern State) in favor of this mode of settlement of existing difficulties, when it is well known that the Post is in favor of the immediate admission to representation of the Southern members It has come to the conclusion that the amendment is the best settlement the South can obtain from the North— and it is right. Several of the Southern Legislatures are looking at the matter in the same light and if the President were to urge them a little they would soon adopt the amendment I have good reasons for believing that the President has been urged recently to accept the amendment as a compromise with Congress It is well known that Congress has not pledged itself to admit the rebellious States if they will adopt the amendment, but Tennessee was admitted upon that ground and it is well known that a very large number of the Republican members of the Senate and House of Representatives are willing to make the adoption of the amendment a condition of admission Counted with the Democrats and Southern members, they doubtless constitute a majority of the present Congress

We are watching political movements in Massachusetts with a good deal of interest It seems we are not to have Wendell Phillips in the Fortieth Congress. He has made a very wise decision in my opinion Congress is not the place for him It seems, also, that Alley, Rice and Eliot decline to serve again They are excellent men and an honor to any district But so long as Dawes Boutwell and Banks represent Massachusetts in the House, no great change will take place and the fame of the old Commonwealth will be in good hands

The contest in the Fortieth Congress will be over the admission to representation of the rebellious States which have adopted the constitutional amendment. Some of the radicals will oppose it, as they do now and will demand instead impartial suffrage. This would be just but it must apply to all the States Connecticut New York and Pennsylvania must agree to the doctrine before we demand its enforcement in South Carolina There can be little doubt how this contest will end. If the South agrees to the proposed amendment in good faith, she will regain representation But it is quite possible that Congress will postpone granting representation till the amendment is carried This would not be so fair I see that the New York Tribune is in favor of sticking to the implied offer—if the South will agree to the amendment let her in at once

Some of the politicians in this region were not a little astonished by the Round Table of last week It gravely proposes that Johnson shall resign And it professes to be a believer in my policy," too It thinks that the President is the greatest obstacle to a speedy reconstruction It is not far from right, but what a sign of the times is this article The most unpopular man of our times is Andy Johnson of Tennessee, and principally because every honest man knows that he is full of treachery to his old friends. It speaks well for the country that he is unpopular for it shows that the American people regard a tricky unreliable politician with disgust I would like to have the President read the article I have alluded to, but I presume his numerous assistants will manage to keep it away from him Perhaps Mrs Cobb can be bribed to take it to him when she goes into his presence to solicit a pardon

You will see what I am driving at It is this If the rebellious States will at once in good faith proceed to adopt the amendment, they regain representation at an early day Public opinion will compel it But if they refuse, then it is clear that the North and West will take a still stronger position, they will demand impartial suffrage as the only plan of reconstruction Already Sumner, Boutwell and other able members of the party take that position, and they are making converts rapidly If the South were only wise she would take the amendment at once If our President had genuine patriotism, if he had a particle of statesmanship, he would urge the acceptance of the amendment upon the South. He has the ear of the influential men of the South, and they would be very likely to take his advice

But the fact is that Johnson comes very near to being a bad man, and a bad man in the hands of a set of fools (for his advisers are most of them small politicians) is a very dangerous man for the welfare of the country, Look for a moment at the men who surround the President Seward has shown what is the character of his prudence and sagacity. He it was who urged the President to make the Chicago trip. Stanton stands aloof in sullen majesty, deigning not to say a word about politics, for his secret sympathies are with Congress Welles is simply clinging with all his might to his office McCulloch, though a good financier, is a miserable politician Stanberry is a partisan, and Randall, though a clever fellow never gets his eyes above his prog Browning is a good deal of a man, and has been giving the President good advice lately, but the President won t take it. The fact is that the President won t do anything that he ought, but gives himself up to his passions He is just now busy trying to punish Republican office holders for their refusal to advocate his restoration policy Delegations from New Hampshire, New York and Pennsylvania have been here to arrange in reference to those States The President has at last got to the point of entire willingness to appoint Copperheads to office. The Coppers insist upon it, and, as he has no friends among the Republicans, what was he to do?

The Crimes of Mormonism.

Mormonism is a nuisance which ought long ago to have been abated It is a crime which should not be suffered longer to go unpunished The Mormons at Salt Lake are a continual menace to the peace of the country The lives of all "Gentiles" who choose to pass through, or remain in Utah, are in constant jeopardy Murders are of frequent occurrence, and the impossibility of ascertaining who the perpetrators are, renders it certain that the whole community of Mormons is listed in a conspiracy to take the lives of those whom they regard as their enemies, and to protect themselves by concealing all traces of their deeds. Murders of which no account can be given are becoming alarmingly frequent The latest outrage is the murder of Dr. Robinson who was decoyed from his house on the night of the 23d of October on pretense that his medical services were required, and when he had reached a secluded part of the city was set upon by ruffians and assassinated Dr. Robinson came out to Salt Lake City with the army sometime ago. Several gentlemen connected with the army, himself among the number, took up a mineral spring belonging to the United States, theretofore not legally claimed by any one. Shortly afterwards the Mormons took forcible possession of the grounds, destroyed the owners' buildings, and erected larger ones for themselves. The original claimants brought action in the United States District Court to recover possession of their property. The trial was just about to come off when the Saints resorted to their old expedient and got rid of the principal plaintiff by murdering him

There is no remedy for the crimes of Mormonism except that most potent of all remedies—military force. If that abominable society which they have formed cannot be broken up—if it must still be tolerated—the Government at least can send a sufficient military force there to hold the Territory under martial law and protect the lives of citizens The saintly assassins now have it all their own way. With the law in the hands of those who encourage murder, there can be no redress. The only protection is in martial law.

UNSUSPECTING INNOCENCE.—One fine day A Johnson, sometimes called "Moses," for short, swung round the circle, as he went, removing one J W. Avery, an U. S Assessor for the Sacramento district, California, and appointing to fill the vacancy, which thereupon occurred, one John Bigler, an old broken-down hack of the Democratic party, and, later, a virulent secessionist and traitor. This was too much for even the truckling toadyism of the Peanut Call. The appointment of Bigler was actually squelching the feeble breath from out the emaciated but still living corpse of Johnsonism in California, and the Call felt called upon to explain that its Moses did not mean it! He had been imposed upon! He didn't know one John Bigler from another John Bigler—and there are so many of these John Biglers in the country! Had he known before hand, how disastrous to himself the appointment of this particular John Bigler would prove, the Moses would have seen him swamped in the most tempestuous Red Sea in existence, before he would have put his sign manual to the said John Bigler's commission! The Call had sufficient faith in Moses' intense devotion to his own personal interests, to believe that.

This is how the Bigler came to be appointed, according to the Call

> Owing to some faux pas, the Johnson organization here failed to get any of its delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. In fact, so anxious were some of its members to get office that they failed utterly to get a foothold or hearing at Washington. The Democrats got the Presidential ear, palmed themselves off as good Union men, and as representing California, and thus succeeded in coaxing the President into making an appointment which has injured his political interests in California far more than has any of his "swinging around the circle."

The Democrats fooled him into the belief that they were good Union men! And the Democrats coaxed him into making John Bigler happy with a commission! No doubt this is the true explanation of the disastrous deed which Moses did! He would not appoint a secession Democrat to office if he knew it—not if his name was John Bigler a thousand times; and if his name was pressed by all the hosts of secession, marching "arm-in-arm" into the very heart of the Presidential mansion! Not he! He is not that style of man! He was fooled, "coaxed" into it. What unsuspecting innocence! What virgin simplicity! What an affecting instance of trust, betrayed, have we here!

Two or three days ago we copied an article from the Owyhee Avalanche, written by an Oregon soldier, in which the operations of Major Marshall against the Indians in Eastern Oregon were sharply criticised. The Copperhead paper of this place copies a laudatory article regarding the same officer from the Idaho World, challenges comparison between that article and the soldier's letter which we reprinted from the Avalanche, and then with an air of prudery characteristic of many venerable ladies of both sexes, simpers out that no respectable journal will countenance voluntary contributions on such subjects from private soldiers. Of course, not, according to your way of thinking What business has a soldier, after his discharge from the service, to comment even in a respectful manner on the conduct of his superior officers? The old prude of the Herald, lost in admiration of shoulder-straps, cannot listen to a word from a soldier of the line; but can easily lend an ear to anyone who wears tinsel or has a little authority over others. Toadying to an officer is a great deal more agreeable to some people than doing justice to a private soldier. Of the merits or demerits of the officer in question we know little. At the same time we think it likely that a private soldier who has served three years in the Indian country may know as much about the general conduct of affairs in which he has participated, as do certain newspaper writers whose only ambition is to so direct their adulations that "thrift may follow fawning."

The Herald of November 7th has a column and a quarter article on "Mexico," concluding with the sage opinion that Max., "backed by the church influence and 40,000 native troops of the same faith," may so manage that "his empire may be made permanent." It says, further on "The movement set on foot by Maximilian is the first that has promised aught of good to that country."

The same paper contains the following telegraphic news received just after the sapient editor had "writ" his piece:

> NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Herald's city of Mexico correspondent says "Maximilian has appointed Marshal Bazaine temporary Regent and took his departure for Vera Cruz on the 21st ult., going a roundabout way to avoid meeting Gen Castleneau, etc * * * Gen. Castleneau, it is understood, brought orders to Maximilian to turn his Empire over to Bazaine

The telegraph often despitefully uses the speculations of wise editors As the editor above mentioned was writing in favor of a monarchy in America, not very many people will be sorry for the failure of his predictions

> Maximilian has well studied the temper of the Mexican people —Herald, Nov. 7.

And having learned what that temper is, Max. has concluded that the best thing he can do is to "git."

The Crown Princess of Prussia, Queen Victoria's eldest daughter, is said to be losing her reason through grief at the death of a child.

Greeley's "American Conflict"

No other American work of an historical character has ever found so many purchasers and readers in so short a time as has this great work of the veteran editor of the New York Tribune Indeed it may be questioned whether any other American work whatever, has reached so large a circulation The first volume has found one hundred and fifty thousand subscribers and millions of readers, and the second volume will no doubt soon reach a circulation equal to the first. The purchasers of both now that the work is finished, will rapidly multiply No other history, save Macaulay's England, ever sold so rapidly Of the second and third volumes of that work seventy tons were sold in London on the day of publication. In the principal cities of the United States editions multiplied without precedent Twenty five thousand copies were sold in New York in a single day In Boston an edition was issued in three days after the copy reached the printers Yet the aggregate sale of this work, enormous as it has been, will at the present rate soon be exceeded by the sale of Greeley's American Conflict

This performance of Greeley's, all things considered, is the greatest literary success which has been achieved within the memory of man Other works, such as Uncle Tom's Cabin and Les Miserables, have been issued in vast numbers, but these books are small affairs compared with the stout octavos of Mr Greeley. One dollar would purchase Uncle Tom, while it requires more than ten times that sum to purchase the American Conflict. That such a work as this of Greeley's should reach so large a sale in so short a time, is an achievement altogether unprecedented in literature It is due in a great measure to the popularity of the writer, and to his known fitness to handle the great subject which he undertook to treat. It is no disparagement to the authors of the other histories of the war to say that their qualifications for this peculiar work have not generally been conceded to be equal to the qualifications of Horace Greeley.

The accuracy and impartiality of this work have extorted praise even from the author's political opponents and from our late adversaries in arms The second volume is devoted mainly to the military history of the struggle, and in all cases the author appears to have conscientiously endeavored to make the narrative impartial. He cites the rebel authorities on all doubtful points, and if he commits any fault in verifying his facts, that fault would seem to be the result of a somewhat too great anxiety to let the rebel version have more than its due weight. But Mr. Greeley intended to write without partiality, and such is the integrity of his nature that no man of our time composing a history like this, could have adhered to his intention with greater scrupulosity or fidelity. On every page his eagerness to present an unbiassed narrative is apparent. The perspicuous arrangement of parts which was observable in his first volume, is continued as markedly in his second. Mr Greeley has produced a work which will indeed be a "possession for ever"

The size of the second volume considerably exceeds that of the first. Not only the great battles, but all the minor conflicts of any note, are recorded A splendid map accompanies the work, which is furnished to subscribers without additional charge We shall give extracts from the second volume hereafter

A. Johnson has again been "imposed upon" He has been induced to appoint to the office of Surveyor General of Nevada a man named William B. Thornburg, an original Virginia secessionist, who has never voted a Union ticket in his life and never will, whose sentiments, sympathies, talk, votes and acts have been from the beginning of the rebellion and even before its beginning, in favor of treason and against the country he is so anxious to serve in an official capacity "Moses" is evidently getting his "Israelites" badly mixed. What vile impostor has been abusing his confidence and misleading his innocence again?

STATE ITEMS.

A movement is on foot among the Good Templars to start a temperance organ at Salem

The Willamette University has just received a new bell weighing six hundred and ten pounds.

The Unionist says 'Recent rains have raised the Willamette to an excellent boating stage, and the boats are making regular trips with heavy cargoes of freight.

Merchants are receiving their supplies of winter goods, says the Salem Statesman, trade is brisk and prosperous, and numerous buildings in various parts of the city are being hurried rapidly to completion before wet weather becomes a fixed fact.

Some time in September last a row occurred at the residence of Rev Thomas H. Small, in the "Waldo Hills," Marion county, between Matthew Small and J J Blevins—the one a son, and the other a son in law Small attacked Blevins for the alleged use of opprobrious epithets, when Blevins fired two or three revolver shots at him without effect A charge against Blevins of assault with a deadly weapon was examined before Justices Leeny and Fisher, last Saturday, and he was held for trial

Several of the papers have announced the appointment of D Humason to the Collectorship at Astoria, vice W L. Adams, resigned as others say There is probably some mistake about all this, as no announcement of the vacation in any manner of the office by Mr Adams has been made The report probably grows out of the fact which has become public, that Mr. Humason is an ardent hungerer for Adams' place He thinks he can support "my policy" more steadily, with an office to prompt his zeal.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The following items are from our regular Olympia correspondent, under date of Nov. 4th

The seat of councilman for the counties of Lewis and Thurston having become vacant by the death of Judge Ford, Governor Pickering has issued a proclamation calling for a special election, to be held on the 24th inst, to fill said vacancy The Union men have called a convention on the 17th inst. to nominate a candidate, and the copperjohnsons a call on the 14th, for the same purpose.

Judge Darwin, associate justice of this Territory, left a few days since for Iowa, under a six months' leave of absence, for the purpose of bringing his family to the Territory to reside Judge D has given great satisfaction where he has held courts on Puget Sound, and it is to be regretted that he, like most of the other federal officials we have had, and to the detriment of the people's interests, should have so soon to take "a trip to the East."

The agent of the Pacific Railroad has left us The grand enterprise is yet unbuilt. The project remains a vision of the brain The people refused to "pungle," and the agent sought other scenes Joy go with him.

Several foot races have come off in this vicinity within a day or two, in which an enterprising webfoot boy has cleaned out the Olympian "sports" of their loose change.

The breach of promise case remains in statu quo—the fair plaintiff having failed as yet, to bring the suit into court, or the gay defendant to liquidate the damages It is a trying case for old gossipers and inveterate jokers, and they are beginning to look forward anxiously for "something to turn up" to relieve them of this horrid suspense

Mr Wm Byrd, while engaged at his grist mill, near Steilacoom, one day last week, had his arm caught in a cog-wheel and severely injured

The following items are from the Pacific Tribune of Nov. 3d

Our place is improving considerably and permanently, judging from the number and appearance of the new buildings finished and approaching completion The cottage of Mr C L Williams, on the corner of Main and Front streets, built by Messrs Abbott & Dart, is a fine building and an ornament to the town The actual design was furnished by Mr S. G Abbott and finished in a workmanlike manner The new building for Judge Cushman, designed for the office of Register and Receiver, is being pushed forward as rapidly as the weather will permit, also the new residence of Mr Jesse Chapman, retarded somewhat by the weather, is assuming shape We note such things as evidences of permanent prosperity.

Gov Pickering and J H Watson Esq , came up by steamer yesterday morning, from Seattle They have been spending some weeks exploring the Snoqualmie Pass going through it into the Yakima valley On their return the weather was not altogether the most agreeable

For the past few months there has been a great demand for dwelling houses in this place, greater perhaps than at any one time for several years, and none to be had We think it would be a good and safe investment for those who have the means to build a few dwellings for rent.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 6 —The California State Telegraph Company have just received official information that the rates on the Atlantic cable have been reduced from £20 to £10 for telegrams not exceeding twenty words sent between New York and England; the date, address signature and date not exceeding one hundred letters and each additional word not exceeding five letters On each additional word not exceeding five letters 10s will be charged

The following dispatch appears in the Times of this evening

NEW YORK, Nov 5—Midnight —To all Editors and Agents I have received the notice of the one three wires this morning signed by Simonton and Beach and I pronounce its assertion utterly false I have not been discharged unanimously nor at all My responsibility is to the Executive Committee and to them only and they have not and will not unite in the lying assertion of Simonton and Beach It is true that I have for some weeks past headed a movement here to remodel and improve our Association as you will learn from my present circular now on its way to you and it is also true that all these arrangements are completed and will go into effect next Monday My resignation has been in the hands of the Executive Committee several weeks Whether accepted or not I should have retired at the end of this week, at which time as I have good reasons to believe every agent or reporter of the Association will earnestly cooperate in the new movement which I assure you is started with the most ample backers and as its results will thereby promote the interests of all papers instead of this city I shall confidently hope for your earnest approval (Signed) F H CRAIG

Agent for the Associated Press

The board of supervisors have authorized negotiations with Thos N Cazneau to proceed to New York to enforce the claim of the city for the sum of $60 000 against the underwriters in the Comanche insurance The majority of the board seem to be of the opinion that their claim is good and worth going to some expense and trouble over

The mail steamer is now over due owing to the severe storm on the Atlantic coast She will doubtless arrive within a day or two, as the San Francisco, with which she connected on the other side, has been heard from on her return trip to New York The latter steamer was compelled to put into Charleston harbor for a supply of coal.

Golden and Cunningham Cosgrove, Pennybacke & Don a hue charged with concealing whisky which had been illicitly distilled were arraigned before Judge Hoffman this morning and plead guilty

John E Robinson indicted for Bigamy was arraigned in County Court this morning and plead guilty

A fire broke out in the hay and feed store of Riley & Vest on Market street, between 4th and 5th, adjoining the National flour mills this afternoon The fire originated among some straw in the rear part of the feed store and is supposed to have been ignited by children The carriage factory of Sprang & McArron, on the west side of Market street, and the National livery and sale stables of G S Banks & Co, and the Phoenix Branch, on the east side, received considerable damage from water

The case of James Sullivan, who stole the gold dust from Henry Paul a miner, on board a vessel at Astoria, has been fully argued before Judge Pratt as to the matter of jurisdiction It will be seen that the money was stolen out of the State and brought within the limits of jurisdiction of this court. It is contended however by the defence that the crime was committed in Oregon and that the defendant can therefore only be tried in that State The authorities are conflicting on the question at issue The Judge will probably render decision to-morrow

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works.

PORTLAND, Oct 18th, 1866

To THE OREGON IRON WORKS

Gentlemen —The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pend d'Oreille Lake has been in operation during the past season and has more than met our expectations in its performance With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE. and especially adapted to the wants of this country on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required

Recorder's Court.—In recorder's court, Judge Hoffman, [illegible] charged with an assault and battery, in the whipping a child at school. From the evidence it appears that Mr. Garrison is engaged in teaching school in East Portland. He has under a large number of wild and unruly boys, who, regardless of the admonitions of their teacher, and the promise of a flogging if they persisted in their bad ways, continued their pranks, until forbearance ceased to be a virtue. Mr. Garrison kept four of the offenders after school, and gave them a good whipping, which they no doubt well deserved. A large amount of evidence was heard in the case. He was fined $20 and costs.

[illegible] meeting of Columbian Engine Company No. 3, held on the evening of November 6th, 1866, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, By a dispensation of the All-wise Providence, [illegible] C. Foreman, a member of this Company, [illegible] of the 3d inst., without a moment's [illegible], removed from our midst while in the full vigor [illegible] therefore be it

Resolved, That this Company doth deeply feel and deplore [illegible] one who was a faithful member and [illegible].

Resolved, That to the family of the deceased we desire [illegible] our deepest feelings of heartfelt sympathy, hoping their grief may be assuaged and their burden lightened, by looking to Him without whose knowledge not even a sparrow falleth to the ground.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of our deceased brother, and that the same be published in the daily papers.

AL. ZIEBER,
Secretary.

[illegible] the steamers leaving this port at this time carry away a great number of passengers; still, from the number [illegible] and plaid suits worn here, we should [illegible] were doing an excellent business.

[illegible] Rooms.—Mons. Pierre Manglot has just [illegible] up private apartments at the Lafayette [illegible] for the accommodation of Ladies and Families, [illegible] private parties of Ladies and Gentlemen, and is [illegible] the delicacies of the season to those [illegible], on Stark street, opposite the Willamette [illegible]. He is also prepared to furnish suppers [illegible], on the shortest notice.

Valuable Farm for Sale.

THAT VALUABLE FARM, KNOWN AS THE McDONALD FARM, situated five miles south of Dayton, Yamhill County, is offered for sale. The farm consists of six hundred and thirty-five acres, all excellent arable land, about one-half of which is under good fence. On the premises are a good Frame House and Barn and a large fine Orchard, with an abundance of good water, excellent oak timber and a fine grove of fir. The farm is situated in a healthy and pleasant neighborhood. There is a good level road leading from it to Dayton, a point reached by steamboats the whole year. Altogether, it is one of the most desirable locations in the State. Any one desiring a farm would do well to examine this place. If, as the old adage declares, "Health is the Greatest of Earthly Blessings," then every effort to preserve it pays well.

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.

There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach's sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.

They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel-plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Barnes' Magnolia Water.

A toilet delight! The ladies' treasure and gentlemen's boon! The "sweetest thing" and largest quantity. Manufactured from the rich Southern Magnolia. Used for bathing the face and person, to render the skin soft and fresh, to prevent eruptions, to perfume clothing, &c.

It overcomes the unpleasant odor of perspiration.
It removes redness, tan, blotches, &c.
It cures nervous headache and allays inflammation.
It cools, softens and adds delicacy to the skin.
It yields a subdued and lasting perfume.
It cures musquito bites and stings of insects.
It contains no material injurious to the skin.
It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Try the Magnolia Water once and you will use no other Cologne, Perfumery, or Toilet Water afterwards.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING.
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

Lyon's Extract of Pure Jamaica Ginger—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "Lyon's" Pure Extract. Take no other.

Caution.—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

Death to Fleas.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. Lyon, and the private stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

The Closing Scene

Within the sober realms of leafless trees
The russet year inhaled the dreamy air
Like some tanned reaper in his hour of ease
When all the fields are lying brown and bare

The gray barns looking from their hazy hills
O'er the dim waters widening in the vales
Sent down the air a greeting to the mills
On the dull thunder of alternate flails

All sights were mellowed and all sounds subdued
The hills seemed further and the streams sang low
As in a dream the distant woodman hewed
His winter log with many a muffled blow

The embattled forests erewhile armed with gold
Their banners bright with every martial hue
Now stood like some sad beaten host of old
Withdrawn afar in time's remotest blue

On sombre wings the vulture tried his flight
The dove scarce heard his sighing mate's complaint
And, like a star slow drooping in the light
The village church spire seemed to pale and faint

The sentinel cock upon the hill-side crew—
Crew thrice—and all was stiller than before,
Silent till some replying warbler blew
His alien horn and then was heard no more

Where erst the jay, within the elm's tall crest
Made garrulous trouble round her unfledged young
And where the oriole hung her swaying nest
By every light wind like a censer swung

Where sang the noisy martins of the eaves
The busy swallows circling ever near—
Foreboding, as the rustic mind believes
An early harvest and a plenteous year

Where every bird that waked the vernal feast
Shook the sweet slumber from its wings and morn,
To warn the reaper of the rosy east
All now was sunless empty and forlorn

Alone, from out the stubble piped the quail
And croaked the crow through all the dreary gloom
Alone the pheasant drumming in the vale,
Made echo in the distant cottage loom

There was no bud no bloom upon the bowers,
The spiders wove their thin shrouds night by night
The thistledown the only ghost of flowers,
Sailed slowly by, passed noiseless out of sight.

Amid all this—in this most dreary air
And where the woodbine sheds upon the porch
Its crimson leaves, as if the year stood there,
Firing the blood with its inverted torch,

Amid all this—the centre of the scene,
The white haired matron, with monotonous tread
Plied the swift wheel and with her joyous mein
Sat like a fate, and watched the flying thread

She had known sorrow He had walked with her,
Oft supped and broke with her the ashen crust
And in the dead leaves still she heard the stir
Of his thick mantle, trailing in the dust.

While yet her cheek was bright with summer bloom,
Her country summoned, and she gave her all,
And twice war bowed his sable plume—
Re-gave the sword to rust upon the wall.

Re-gave the sword but not the hand that drew
And struck for liberty the dying blow
Nor him who, to his sire and country true,
Fell 'mid the ranks of the invading foe.

Long, but not loud the droning wheel went on,
Like the low murmur of a hive at noon;
Long, but not loud, the memory of the gone
Breathed through her lips a sad and trembling tone

At last the thread was snapped; her head was bowed;
Life dropped the distaff through her hands serene,
And loving neighbors smoothed her careful shroud,
While death and winter closed the autumn scene.

—T Buchanan Read

Anecdotes of the War.

The last number of The Land we Love contains an article entitled the 'Haversack,' by Gen D H Hill, from which we clip the following extracts

During the war we frequently saw the phrase "dying in the last ditch" attributed to Gen Pillow by the Northern press Lately we see that Brownlow of Tennessee, whose classic purity of style is so well known to the whole country, is receiving the credit of originating it But with whomsoever the expression originated, it was employed long before the rebellion, by William the Third of England, Stradtholder of Holland, and Prince of Orange When defending his hereditary dominions against the immense armies of Louis XIV, he was told by the French Ambassador that inevitable destruction awaited his people unless he would submit to the Grand Monarch "I have thought of the means of avoiding the sight of the ruin of my country, I can die in the last ditch" In Holland, intersected in every direction by canals whose embankments afforded the best defensive works, the language is pregnant with meaning It could have no local significance in any part of the United States—Byron has an allusion to this celebrated speech of William of Orange. In his diary we read: "Ward talks of going to Holland, and we have partly discussed an ensemble expedition It must be in ten days if at all, if we wish to be in the revolution Old William of Orange talked of 'dying in the last ditch' of his dingy country It is well that I can swim, or I suppose that I could not weather the first."

There are certain expressions which please the popular mind, and soon become part of its common property. The right ownership may never be known, but the people will always claim possession After the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca, an anonymous writer alluding to Gen Taylor, said "The soldiers call him old Rough and Ready" No one in the army knew of this sobriquet till they saw this communication But the appellation pleased the soldiery and the country The old hero did from that time forward receive a designation which was the coining of this unknown scribbler In a republic his fortune is made who receives a popular cognomen. In "the fierce democracy of Rome" the adjectives of Africanus and Asiaticus applied to the conqueror of Africa and Asia could never have roused a wilder enthusiasm among the people than has been excited among us by the appellations "Old Tippecanoe" and "Old Rough and Ready" In the latter instance the alliteration took the masses as much as the names It struck the fancy like Poe's "pallid bust of Pallas," or Pope's "up the high hill he heaves the huge round stone" At any rate, we doubt not that the anonymous correspondent of an obscure paper won for "Old Rough and Ready" (we readily accord the sobriquet) more than fifty thousand votes He should have been rewarded with a place in the Cabinet, or by a first-class foreign embassy Perhaps he was, who knows?

The expression "war to the knife," which was used so frequently during the late struggle and for several years preceding it, has seldom received its true paternity. It was the answer of Palafox to the demand of the French commander, Marshal Moncey, for the surrender of Saragossa This was not an idle bravado, but the stern determination of a brave man, who, by his heroic resistance, has caused the defence of Saragossa to be ranked with that of Saguntum and Numantia It was thought at the beginning of the second great rebellion that the bowie knife would be as terrible in Southern hands as the machete in the hands of the Spanish peasantry But its inferiority to the deadly revolver soon caused it to be discarded. Gov. Harris, of Tennessee, who served on the staff of Gen Sidney Johnson at the battle of Shiloh, related an incident illustrating this point. A regiment from ——, which had often boasted of what prodigies of valor it would perform with the bowie-knife, broke badly under a withering fire of Minie-balls The General rode up to the shrinking, cowering men, and cried out: "You have bragged about what you would do with the bowie-knife, and now when the manlier weapon is put into your hands, you play the woman If there is manhood in you, follow me." He placed himself in front of the regiment and rode before it until the enemy was routed by the gallant attack He led into action several regiments on that, the last day of his heroic life

Gen B F Butler, U. S A, was the first to use the word "contraband" as a designation for the negro, and he has, too, the honor of being the first to encourage that class of persons to desert their masters It will doubtless gratify him to know that the contrabands made themselves very useful to both sides The rebels at least, were kept well posted about all that occurred within and around Fortress Monroe The number of ships that McClellan brought and the strength of his army were reported with astonishing accuracy It is certain that Yorktown knew more of Fortress Monroe, at this period at least, than did Fortress Monroe know of Yorktown The opposite opinion would be a poor compliment to McClellan. He certainly would have attacked on the first day of his arrival, before Magruder's long weak line had he known that there were many points of it at which there was not a man for hundreds of yards. There is reason to believe that Magruder kept Butler amused for more than a year with false information conveyed through intelligent contrabands, while his own intelligence was accurate to the minutest degree The rebel tricks played off by means of negroes at the beginning of the war would be sufficiently curious, but the time has hardly come for these revelations to be made But even when 'the instinct of freedom was true,' the news brought by the intelligent contraband must sometimes have seemed very strange An officer of McClelland's staff told the writer, during a flag of truce, an amusing instance of this

After Beauregard's retreat from Corinth, McClellan was much exercised in mind lest he should come to the relief of Lee A statement to that effect had been published in our papers Other papers denounced this imprudent revelation and said some wise things about the importance of reticence McClellan, as a military man, knew this was the move that ought to be and he believed it had been made However, to make sure on this point he determined to examine, in person an intelligent contraband just brought into his lines direct from Richmond

Gen McClellan—Is Beauregard in Richmond
Intelligent Contraband—Oh! yes masser

Gen M—How many soldiers did he have with him?

I C—Hundred tousand! free tousand fifty tousand! Cars heaped up with sogers ebery day two free weeks

Gen M—Are you sure that Beauregard is there himself?

I C—Oh! yes him make a speech at de captol hear Mass Letcher call him Gen B[illegible]rogar

The news was sufficiently confirmatory of McClellan's worst fears and the intelligent contraband saw plainly that he had 'made a sensation—the thing of all others the most flattering to the negro At length some unthought of testing still further the intelligent contraband's accuracy and the examination was renewed

Q—Did you see Gen Beauregard yourself?

A—Oh! yes masser! me see him for sartin

Q—What sort of a looking man is he?

A—Him great big fat man, stomack tick out so (putting his hands two feet in front of his stomach)

This was too much for the gravity of McClellan who laughed heartily with his fears all relieved

Beauregard's leanness was too well known for the credibility of the contraband's story It appeared afterward that the poor fellow had mistaken the portly Price (who happened to be in Richmond about that time) for the celebrated engineer The "fifty tousand, free tousand hundred tousand" were the troops of Holmes and Huger from North Carolina and Norfolk

The Freedmen's Bureau —Governor Patton of Alabama has recently paid involuntary tribute to the great excellence and necessity of the Freedmen's Bureau as a medium of impartial charity in the South He was one of those who at the period of prejudice against the Bureau which was excited by the President's veto, recommended the stoppage of rations, the issuance of which was held to encourage idleness among the blacks He now asks and obtains the reissue of rations by the Bureau, representing that 70,000 to 80 000 persons in Alabama, chiefly widows and orphans are suffering for the want of food Gen eral Howard in granting his request notes the important fact that there are more than two whites who receive rations from the Bureau to one colored person So it has been nearly everywhere in the South The amount of suffering relieved and prevented by the much maligned Freedmen's Bureau, can hardly be estimated. While we are not friendly to those political doctrines which would impose upon the Government, as in France the principal care of the morals and physical wants of the people, we think the Freedmen's Bureau, with whatever fault it may have had will go into history as one of the most necessary public philanthropies ever organized It is to the glory of the Republic that it was able to devise an organized charity supported by the public treasury whose sole aim was to relieve suffering in the very communities which so desperately sought to destroy the Government that feeds them —Bulletin

Reconstruction in South Carolina —Gen Sickles, commanding at Charleston, South Carolina, has issued an order providing as follows

First—All cases are to be remitted to the United States, of which they have legal cognisance Second—Inasmuch as the State Courts are now open to all persons, with equal civil rights therein, without distinction of color, all cases, civil and criminal, in which the parties are civilians must be turned over to the State tribunals, and all civilians now in military custody will be surrendered to the Sheriff of the District in which the alleged offence was committed Third—The Military Provost Courts will be discontinued in the general districts as soon as the District Courts are organized, excepting Hilton Head and the Sea Islands Fourth—Jails are to be restored to Sheriffs Fifth—Corporal punishment is prohibited except in case of minors Sixth—The State laws against vagrancy may be enforced Seventh—No prosecution or suit will be allowed against any Federal officer or soldier for acts heretofore done in a military capacity Eighth and Ninth—Provides that District Commanders shall report any failure of the civil tribunal to give protection to persons and property and shall arrest persons charged with offenses against inhabitants of the United States irrespective of color where the civil authorities fail to do so. Tenth—District commanders are enjoined to extend due facilities and protection as heretofore to the Freedmen's Bureau agents Eleventh—Commends the authorities and people of South Carolina the patient, considerate and impartial execution of the laws towards all classes of persons recently clothed with civil rights, so that no occasion may hereafter arise for the exercise of military authority in matters pertaining to the civil administration concerning the freed people

The Vice-Presidents of the United States —This office has been vacant on the following occasions, viz Twice by the death of the Vice President viz—George Clinton, April, 1812 his term expiring March 3, 1813 Elbridge Gerry, November 1814, his term expiring March 3, 1817 Once by the resignation of John C Calhoun, December 28, 1832; his term expiring March 3, 1833, Three times by the death of Presidents Harrison, Taylor and Lincoln, and the consequent accessions of Vice Presidents Tyler Fillmore and Johnson to the Presidency—the former in April, 1841, the second in July, 1850 and the latter in April 1865—leaving the Vice Presidency vacant for the remainder of their respective terms, the President of the Senate having the right of succession to the Presidency The powers and duties of the Vice-President and the President of the Senate pro tem are precisely the same, except that the latter votes as a Senator and has the casting vote

The Sacramento Assessorship —The Sacramento Union of October 30th, says

Ex Governor Bigler, in company with James Bithell, called yesterday morning on J M Avery at the Assessor's office, and inquired whether Avery had received from Washington an order to deliver up to him the books and papers connected with the office? Avery answered in the affirmative Bigler then asked for the books and papers Avery declined to give them up Bigler asked if he would hand them over on the first of the month? Avery replied that he would not, and stated that Bigler might take his answer as a general refusal to surrender the office Bigler stated that he would regard the matter in that light Bigler left the city for San Francisco by the afternoon boat, and it is supposed that he will resort to legal means to obtain possession of the office

An Amen in the Right Place —At the conclusion of the Johnson Philadelphia Convention the Throne of Grace was addressed by a "conservative" clergyman, who ended his petition with the Lord's Prayer It is said that there was no response until he came to the words "give us this day our daily bread," when every member pricked up his ears and earnestly and solemnly responded "Amen" That Amen did not stick in their throats, though it would have met with a more hearty response had the chaplain interpolated the words "and butter" —Toledo Blade

J B Ham has investigated the condition of the factories in Massachusetts, having been appointed by Gov Bullock to do so and reports some of the mills badly ventilated, young children at work in them in a state of deplorable ignorance at small wages, and the Catholic parents opposed to their education in the public schools He recommends fewer hours of labor reading rooms, and the prevention of the employment of young children in the factories

Judicial Sarcasm —Judge Davis, of Warsaw Circuit Court, lately pronounced sentence on a contraband liquor seller thus

"This Court cannot consent that the crime of selling liquor contrary to law shall be reduced to the level of the crime of high treason, in which everybody goes free, and nobody is punished We fine you $25 and you will be committed to jail until it is paid"

Rev Mr Meredith of Stafford county Virginia tells of a negro woman of that region leading her people in idol dances, and giving out herself as immortal Rev Dr Marshall of Mississippi says hundreds of negroes in that State have adopted what they call the new religion They teach that God is dead and that the Saviour has been superseded by two old negro women, whom they worship in His stead

CIRCULAR

To the Officers and Soldiers Oregon Volunteers

Adjutant General's Office
Salem Oct [illegible] 186[illegible]

By RECENT ACTS OF CONGRESS ALL OFFICERS [illegible] of the Volunteer service [illegible] in the late war [illegible] entitled to three months extra pay [illegible]

[illegible] by Act of Congress approved July 28th 1866 [illegible] together with the [illegible] departments are [illegible]

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES APPROVED JULY 28 1866

War Department, Adjutant General's Office
Washington Sept [illegible] 1866

1 All applications shall be filed within [illegible] months from the 1st day of October 1866 and [illegible] any payments are made all the classified [illegible] after which [illegible] shall be settled until all [illegible]

2 Applications shall be [illegible] discharge [illegible] the soldier [illegible] required by the [illegible] section of the Act and the further [illegible] that he has not received or is not entitled to receive from the United States under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28 1866 more than $100 bounty for any and all [illegible] served during the late rebellion [illegible] over and above the amount therein claimed

3 All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereafter prescribed and the evidence [illegible] shall be the same as is now required and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department

4 As soon as the examination of the claims [illegible] by the [illegible] or other independent organization shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt [illegible] Paymaster General

5 A register shall be kept in the Paymaster [illegible] office and also in the office of the Second Auditor of all claims presented under the law in which the claim and its will be classified by regiments etc If the claim is allowed, the amount of bounty paid [illegible] will be noted and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated

6 In the applications for bounty as required by the third of these rules the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated

7 Organizations serving, clearly in the service of the United States, called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards etc and not included in the general bounty laws are not included within the meaning of the Act

8 Soldiers enlisted for three years or during the war who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment and are entitled to bounty under this Act

9 The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage Heirs shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother Non residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes

1 Those who after serving the full period of their enlistment were dishonorably discharged at its expiration

2 Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment

3 Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service but not occasioned by wounds received in the line of duty who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge

4 Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment

5 The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty

6 The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who under previous laws have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States

7 The surviving soldiers as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers when such soldiers have bartered sold assigned loaned transferred exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress

8 The Act of the 28th of July 1866 creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty and debars certain classes brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law

EDWIN M STANTON
September 14, 1866 Secretary of War

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law

HENRY STANBERY

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and [illegible] Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable life from the effects of secret indulgence or from disease absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guard and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies If they are cared for and cured before it be too late, [illegible] their immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the [illegible] of morbid symptoms unless combatted by [illegible] ical measures viz Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins weakness of the limbs [illegible] blunted intellect loss of confidence, [illegible] proaching strangers, a dislike to form new [illegible] a disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible] flushes pimples and various eruptions about the [illegible] furred tongue fetid breath coughs, [illegible] sweats monomania and frequent insanity [illegible] not obtained should apply immediately, [illegible] or by letter and have a cure effected by his [illegible] entific mode of treating this disease, which [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this compl[illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will [illegible] patient a written instrument, binding [illegible] radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon stating symptoms length of time the disease has continued [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded free from [illegible] curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in a letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co
